HISTORY AND PURPOSE

- The Missouri Juvenile Code, Section 211.331, sets forth that in each county of the first and second classes it is the duty of the county court (commission) to provide a place of detention for children coming within the provisions of the code. The code further states "detention should approximate as closely as possible the care of the children in good homes."
- The Robert L. Perry Juvenile Justice Center is a facility designated by the 13th Judicial Circuit (encompassing Boone and Callaway counties) to provide detention, evaluation services, and temporary care to juveniles placed at the Juvenile Justice Center by order of the court. Abused, neglected, or dependent children who are in need of protective care and custody are not served by the Center.
- The Robert L. Perry Juvenile Justice Center began serving juveniles on January 15, 1975. On January 24, 1995, the Juvenile Justice Center moved into its present facility. The facility is coeducational, with a detention wing and a program wing. The juveniles placed at the Juvenile Justice Center are primarily between 10 and 16 years of age. The detention wing originally housed 12 residents and the program wing housed 21 residents. On October 5, 2004, the Juvenile Justice Center finished an expansion of the detention wing. The detention wing now houses 24 residents: 20 males and 4 females. The program wing still houses 21 residents: 14 males and 7 females.
- In a structured and supervised setting, with an atmosphere of care and concern, juveniles at the Juvenile Justice Center involve themselves in a variety of learning situations. All residents are required to pursue some type of academic achievement while in residence. The Juvenile Justice Center, in conjunction with Columbia Public Schools, provides school classes daily. Additionally, residents participate in needs based educational classes, complete individual contract assignments to address identified needs, and participate in other educational, recreational, and life skills activities. Families of juveniles are encouraged to visit residents and to participate in programming developed to promote positive family functioning.
- The commitment by Boone County to finance and create innovative programming has greatly benefited juvenile offenders. Through the various services and activities provided for these juveniles, many of them have been able to return home, alter problematic behaviors, and be successful in the community.

LEGAL STATUS OF RESIDENTS IN PLACEMENT

- There are two separate wings at the Robert L. Perry Juvenile Justice Center: The detention wing is for juveniles on detention status (those awaiting adjudicatory hearings) and the program wing is for juveniles on evaluation, short term care, or placement status.
- JUVENILES ON DETENTION STATUS are eligible to participate in educational, recreational and other activities held within the Juvenile Justice Center. Outdoor recreation is held in an enclosed, secure area.
- JUVENILES ON EVALUATION STATUS are provided evaluation services following adjudication and prior to disposition. Evaluators develop recommendations to submit to the court regarding dispositional alternatives. Risk and needs assessments, legal history, and psychiatric consultation are included in the pre-disposition assessment. Juveniles on evaluation status may be eligible to participate in supervised recreation in a non-secure area and/or supervised activities outside the Juvenile Justice Center, and may be eligible for passes allowing them to leave the Center for a specified period of time.
- JUVENILES MAY RETURN TO THE CENTER ON SHORT TERM CARE OR PLACEMENT STATUS following evaluation in order to complete contract obligations or while alternative out-of-home placement is being sought. Juveniles on short term care status or placement status may be eligible to participate in supervised recreation in a non-secure area and/or supervised activities outside the Juvenile Justice Center, and may be eligible for passes allowing them to leave the Center for a specified period of time.

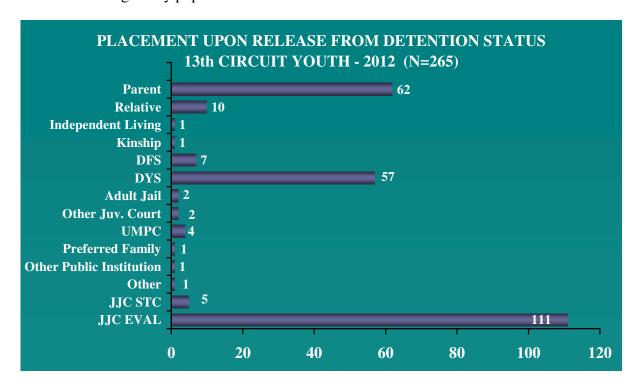

2012 - DETENTION STATISTICS

The above graph represents the number of residents who were on detention status by jurisdiction for a range of days. This includes all youth on detention status including any youth carried over from 2011.

There were 303 total admissions to the facility in 2012. This includes youth admitted to both the detention and program wing.

- 229 juveniles were under the jurisdiction of the 13th Judicial Circuit.
- 71 juveniles were placements from other circuits.
- 3 juveniles were out of jurisdiction detention.
- 270 juveniles were admitted on detention status.
- 175 juveniles were at the Center on evaluation status.
- 11 juveniles were at the Center on short term care status.
- The average daily population was 14.9.

JUVENILE DETENTION ALTERNATIVES INITIATIVE

Juvenile Detention Alternatives Initiative (JDAI) is a process where juvenile justice professionals are reconsidering their use of detention and by implementing eight core strategies, using detention only when necessary, for those youth that will: 1) pose a threat to community safety if released pending their court date, or 2) who will fail to appear for their court date.

The eight core strategies of JDAI involve the following:

- Collaboration among juvenile justice agencies, community organizations and other government agencies
- The use of data in making policy and case-level decisions
- Objective instruments to guide detention decisions
- Operation of a continuum of non-secure detention alternatives
- Case processing efficiencies to reduce time between arrest and case disposition
- Improve conditions of confinement
- Safe reductions of special populations
- Racial/ethnic fairness in policy and case-level decision making

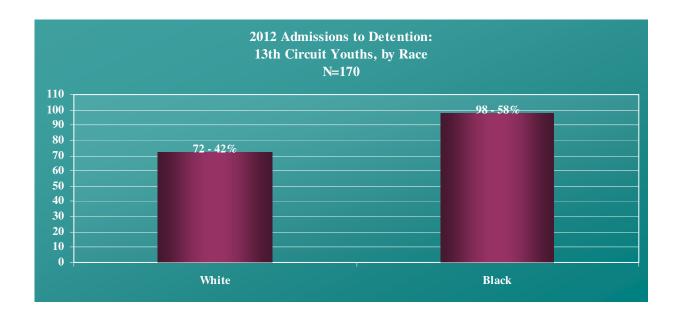

According to information provided on the Juvenile Detention Alternatives Initiative (JDAI) Help Desk Website (www.jdaihelpdesk.org), JDAI began as a project of the Annie E. Casey Foundation in 1992 with an overall purpose to show others that juvenile court jurisdictions can establish more effective and efficient juvenile justice methods to accomplish the purpose of juvenile detention without jeopardizing public safety. The Annie E. Casey Foundation's vision was that all youth involved in the juvenile justice system would have opportunities to develop into healthy and productive adults. JDAI is currently in the process of being replicated in more than 125 jurisdictions in 30 states and the District of Columbia.

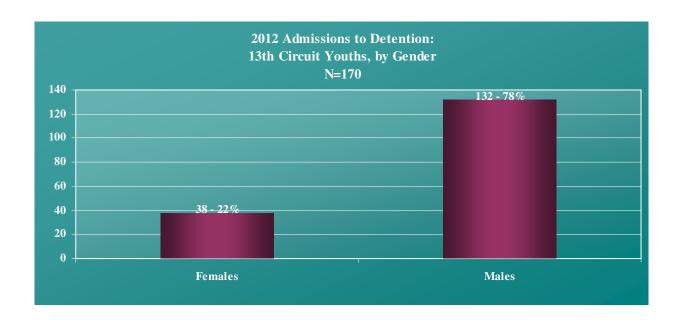

The main goals of JDAI are to:

- Reduce the number of youth unnecessarily or inappropriately detained
- Decrease the number of youth who fail to appear for their court appearances or who reoffend pending adjudication
- Redirect public funds toward successful reform strategies
- Reduce the disproportionate minority confinement and contact within the juvenile justice system
- Improve the juvenile justice system

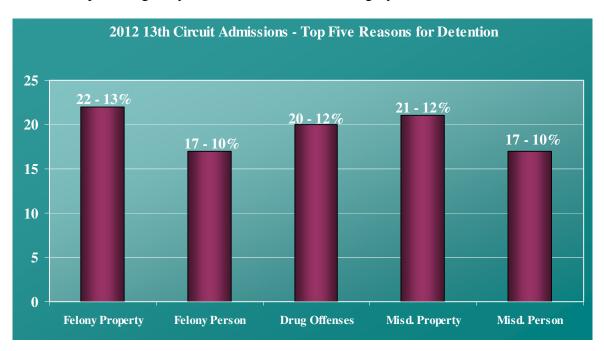

With the assistance of grant funds made available for this project through the Missouri Department of Public Safety and the Missouri Juvenile Justice Advisory Group from funding provided by the U.S. Department of Justice, Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention, the 13th Circuit Juvenile Division has been working to implement JDAI since October 2009. A JDAI collaborative team was established in December of 2009 and is made up of representatives from local law enforcement, Division of Youth Services, mental health, community organizations, schools and county government.

The following graphs depict statistical information by race and gender for 13th Circuit only youth on detention status in 2012.

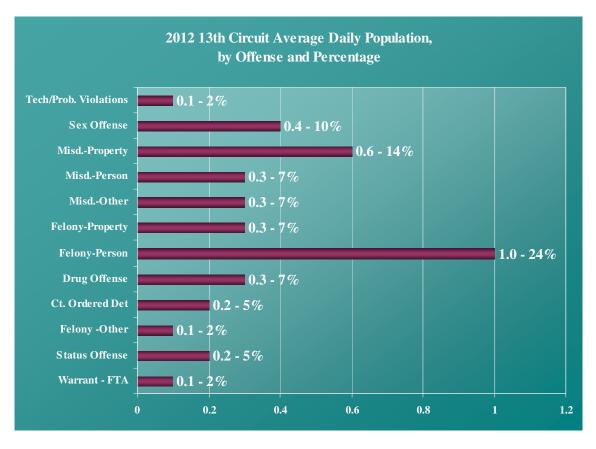

For the 170 13th Circuit youth who were admitted to the Robert L. Perry Juvenile Justice Center on detention status, the following is a breakdown of the top five reasons for detention and the number and percentage of youths admitted for each category:

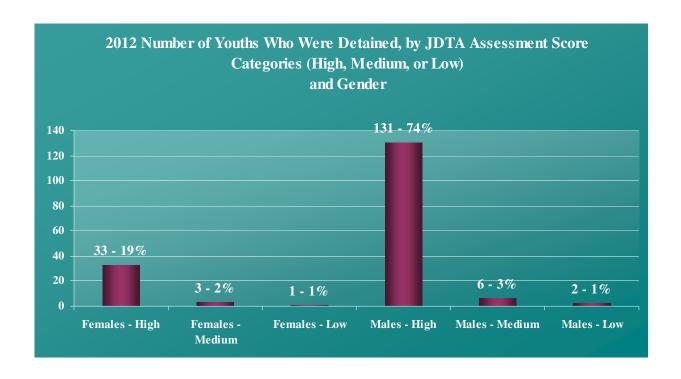

In 2012, the average daily population of 13th Circuit youth on detention status was 4.2. The following is a breakdown of the average daily population, by offense and percentage of 13th Circuit detention population. These figures do not include any Division of Youth Services warrants.

Since January 1, 2010, the Juvenile Division has been using the Juvenile Detention Assessment (JDTA) to guide decision-making on whether or not to detain youth presented for detention. The JDTA has been validated by the Office of State Courts Administrator and effective January 1, 2012, all juvenile court jurisdictions in Missouri have been mandated by Supreme Court Operating Rule 28 to use the screening assessment prior to placing youth in detention.

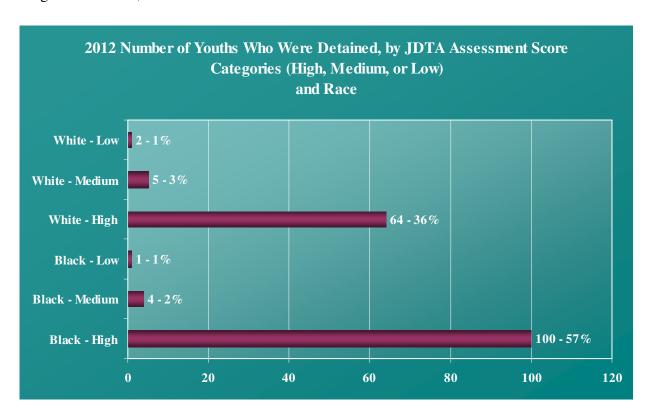

In 2012, 959 juveniles were administered the Missouri Juvenile Detention Assessment form (JDTA). A score of 1 to 9 (Low) indicates release, a score of 10 to 14 (Medium) indicates detention alternative, and a score of 15 and above (High) indicates detention. There is a capability for supervisory override of the indicated action, based on specific criteria.

Of the 959 youths screened using the JDTA, 176 were placed in detention. The following is a breakdown of the number and percentage of total youths, by assessment score categories and gender, who were administered the JDTA and were detained. It should be noted that youths on DYS warrants are not always administered the JDTA. Additionally, out-of-jurisdiction youths are not assessed using the JDTA, as the 13th Circuit does not authorize those detentions. A result of both practices is that the number and percentage of youths detained will not match the number and percentage of admissions for detention.

Total #/% Females Total #/% Males 37/21% 139/79%

The following is a breakdown of the number and percentage of total youths, by assessment score categories and race, who were administered the JDTA and were detained.

Total #/% White Youths	Total #/% Black Youths	Total #/% Asian Youths	Total #/% Hispanic Youths
71/40%	105/60%	0/0%	0/0%

Another area of focus since implementing JDAI in 2009 has been in the area of developing detention alternatives. Currently the Juvenile Division offers several different alternatives including shelter care, an evening reporting center, conditional release, voice verification and electronic monitoring with GPS and cell phone options, all of which are considered prior to placing a youth in secure detention.

In 2011, the Juvenile Division developed a Disproportionate Minority Contact (DMC) committee to work on ensuring racial/ethnic fairness when referring youth of color as well as case level decision making at the Juvenile Office. From this committee a sub-committee was formed to work on a memorandum of understanding between the Columbia Public School district, local law enforcement and the Boone County Juvenile Office.

Risk Assessment Scores

A primary tool used by the Juvenile Division in delinquency and status offense cases is the Risk and Needs Assessment Form. A risk assessment is completed on a juvenile by the detaining deputy juvenile officer, upon the time of the juvenile's admission, and helps guide decision-making regarding disposition. On the risk assessment, a youth scoring 8 and above is considered to be high risk; a youth scoring 1 to 7 is considered to be moderate risk; and a youth scoring -3 to 0 is considered to be low risk.

The following are the statistics for each variable in the risk assessments related to youths detained at the Juvenile Justice Center in 2011 and 2012:

JUVENILE JUSTICE CENTER PROGRAMS AND SERVICES

Art Program

The Robert L. Perry Juvenile Justice Center Art Program is designed for juveniles in placement on the detention and program side at the Juvenile Justice Center. The Art Program is designed as an incentive to increase the self-esteem of the participants and to demonstrate to this population of juveniles, in a tangible way, the reward for making good choices and decisions, thereby increasing the likelihood that they become accountable, successful members of their communities.

The art program was implemented in January 2000. Juveniles have the chance to work in several different areas, including drawing, pen and ink, acrylic painting, and clay projects. There is a pottery wheel, and a kiln for the firing and glazing of the clay projects. An art instructor provides instruction fourteen hours a week.

Music Program

In December 2001, through the use of Juvenile Accountability Block Grant funds, the Robert L. Perry Juvenile Justice Center purchased three electronic keyboards. The music program was implemented in 2002. The program is designed to increase the self-esteem of the participants and to demonstrate to this population of juveniles alternative activities in which they can participate in their communities. A music instructor provides instruction two hours a week.

Computer Lab

In June 2001, through the use of Juvenile Accountability Block Grant funds, the Robert L. Perry Juvenile Justice Center purchased three computers, a color printer/scanner/copier, and a wide variety of educational software. Juveniles in residence at the Center have used the computer lab to complete special school projects, homework, contract assignment work, and letters to parents and attorneys.

"Our Family Garden"

"Our Family Garden" is a seasonal activity for juveniles in placement on the program wing of the Robert L. Perry Juvenile Justice Center. The juveniles who have earned outside privileges have the opportunity to prepare the garden plot for planting, plant vegetable and flower seeds, weed and provide upkeep of the garden and, finally, harvest the vegetables. In 2012, the garden produced tomatoes, green peppers, carrots, onions, squash, cucumbers, radishes and lettuce for use at the Juvenile Justice Center. Juveniles were also able to complete community service work hours by working in the garden. The garden activity is presented to the juveniles as a positive activity in which they can engage upon return to their communities. Juveniles reacted positively to their gardening experience, and were excited about contributing and eating food they had grown themselves.

The name for the garden came from a contest in which the residents on the program wing participated. They submitted names for the garden which where then voted on by residents and staff. "Our Family Garden" was the winner.

The design for a ceramic plaque to place in the garden also came from a contest in which the residents on the program wing submitted drawings which were then voted on by residents and staff. The art instructor worked with residents and staff to perfect the design and create the plaque. The plaque was mounted on a frame and post, and was placed in the garden during the growing season, as it will be each year. Below is the winning design:

Educational Programming

Educational programming is a key component of the Robert L. Perry Juvenile Justice Center Program and one of the primary methods of assisting juveniles in changing their negative behaviors. The topics are modified to best accommodate the age and gender of the participants and the programs are facilitated by caseworkers. In 2012, the educational programming was provided in the areas of drug and alcohol prevention, communications, family/peer relationships and health and nutrition.

Junior Achievement

Junior Achievement is a program that helps youth learn and develop work-readiness skills along with other financial and business skills in order to prepare them for the work force. Junior Achievement fosters future "entrepreneurship skills" in young people. In 2011, the Junior Achievement program was introduced to residents at the Robert L. Perry Juvenile Justice Center. In 2012, 12 hours of Junior Achievement programming was provided.

Daniel Boone Library Book Club

Under the leadership of Sarah Howard, Children and Youth Services Manager at the Daniel Boone Library, JJC residents participated in a book club through the Daniel Boone Library. As part of the book club, residents were provided pre-selected books to read that were geared toward issues that are challenging to adolescents in today's world. During book club, residents read excerpts from their book and engage in group discussions surrounding certain discussion points. In 2012, 13.5 hours of book club where provided to 121 kids.

Educational Program: Robert L. Perry Juvenile Justice Center School

Since the facility first opened in January 1975, juveniles in placement at the Robert L. Perry Juvenile Justice Center have been provided quality educational services through the Juvenile Justice Center School Program, in conjunction with the Columbia Public School District. From 1975 until the 1994-95 school year, one Columbia Public Schools teacher was assigned to the Juvenile Justice Center to teach all grades. In preparation for the move to the new, larger facility in January 1995, the Columbia Public School District added a second teacher. In March 2005, the district assigned a third teacher to the Juvenile Justice Center, to work with juveniles on the more secure detention wing of the facility. Twelve new rooms for males on detention status had been added as part of a facility expansion project. The capacity of the detention wing doubled, creating the need for a teacher assigned specifically to the detention wing. In 2007, a Title I teacher was assigned to the Juvenile Justice Center on a full-time basis to help children with special needs, e.g. reading, mathematics. Before 2007, the Title I teacher was part-time. All four teachers were trained and experienced in teaching students with learning disabilities and behavior disorders. For the school year 2010-2011, the district moved back to assigning three teachers at the Juvenile Justice Center. Starting the school year 2011-2012, the district reduced the teacher staff to one full-time teacher and one part-time Title I teacher. Starting the school year 2012-2013, the district added to the teacher staff to two full-time teachers and one part-time Title I teacher. In order to provide school over the summer, the Juvenile Justice Center employs a parttime certified summer school teacher during the summer months, which juveniles are required to attend. 170 hours of instruction were provided during the 2012 summer.

Cognitive Behavioral Intervention (CBI) Programming Report

CBI is an evidence-based program that revolves around the concept that if a person changes their thinking, it helps them to change their behavior. It has become the key philosophy of all programming for juveniles in residence on the program wing at the Robert L. Perry Juvenile Justice Center. CBI helps residents learn how to deal with their problem behaviors so that they are able to make the right choices and stay out of trouble. The intent of the program is to challenge the residents to think differently about their attitudes, beliefs, thinking patterns, and choices, and to realize that they have different choices or options in life experiences. The program presented to the Juvenile Justice Center residents is called Thinking for a Change and is made up of the following 15 individual lessons, after which the programming starts over again, in a continuous cycle:

1. Cognitive Self Change	9. Check-Ins
2. Active Listening	10. Knowing Your Feelings
3. Asking Questions	11. Understanding Others' Feelings
4. Giving Feedback	12. Responding to Others' Feelings
5. Thoughts vs. Feeling	13. Dealing With a Stressful Conversation
6. Thinking Reports	14. Responding to Anger
7. Recognizing Risky Thoughts
that Lead to Trouble	15. Dealing With an Accusation
8. New Thinking

In 2012, CBI programming was presented approximately 5 times per week to program and detention residents.

Fitness Course/Recreation

Through the use of Juvenile Accountability Block Grant funds, the Robert L. Perry Juvenile Justice Center built a fitness course in August 2001. The course includes ten stations: the standing broad jump, pull-up bars with three different heights, a body-curl bench, push-up bars, inclined horizontal wooden ladder, vaulting bar, inclined horizontal rope ladder, parallel bars, tires, and a balance beam. Participation in the use of the fitness course is dependent on behavior.

The Recreation Program consists of daily physical fitness exercises and recreational activities designed to meet the physical activity needs of youth in placement at the Center. To meet standards set out in Supreme Court Rule 129.04, juveniles must participate in at least one hour of physical activity daily. Juveniles spend time participating in individual exercise, outdoor team sports as will as indoor activities. Some of the activities include record breakers, stretches, volleyball, four square, basketball, flag football and the fitness course.

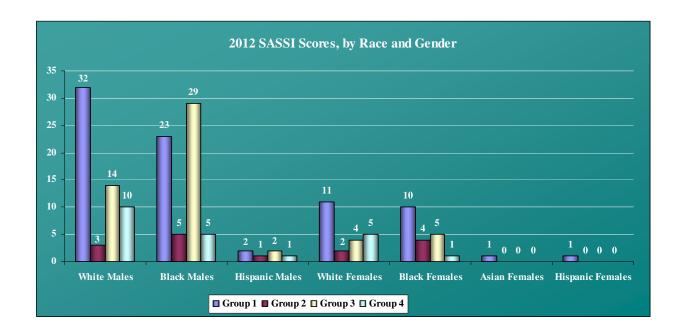

Library

In 1990, a library was created at the Juvenile Justice Center. The creation of the library was primarily related to the increased emphasis on the use of risk and needs assessments and supervision contracts. The library contains resources for each of the needs areas identified in the needs assessments, plus educational information for staff development, activities for juveniles and their parents which are used in supervision contracts, and referral information regarding outside resources for juveniles, families, and staff. The Juvenile Justice Center has received donations of new books for the library from community organizations and reading programs on several occasions throughout the years. As part of the facility expansion that was completed in late 2004, the space for the library was enlarged. The Juvenile Justice Center was able to accommodate many books purchased by the Columbia Public Schools for juveniles in residence at the Center, in the district's effort to encourage juveniles to read.

Substance Abuse Subtle Screening Inventory (SASSI)

The Adolescent SASSI-A2 is designed for juveniles 12 years old or older, to identify those who have a high probability of having a substance abuse issue, including both substance abuse disorder and substance abuse dependence. It also identifies juveniles who have a low likelihood for substance abuse. This test is administered within 24 to 48 hours after admission to the Robert L. Perry Juvenile Justice Center. The test is not administered to juveniles who have taken the SASSI-A2 within the previous 12 months, unless there has been an identified change in substance use.

In 2012, 171 juveniles were administered the SASSI-A2, with the following results:

Group 1: Low Probability for substance abuse or dependence

Group 2: Consider for further assessment, particularly for substance abuse disorder

Group 3: Consider for further assessment; high probability for substance abuse disorder

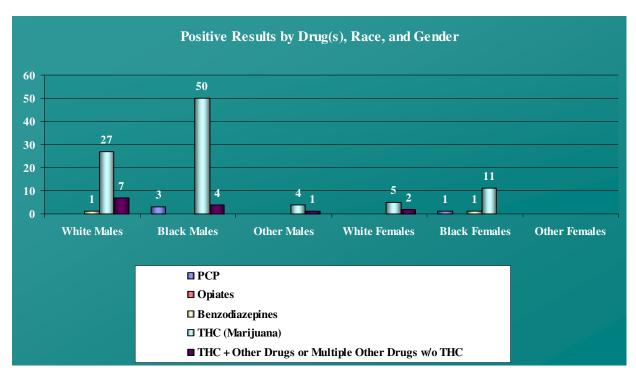

Group 4: Consider for further assessment; high probability for substance abuse dependence

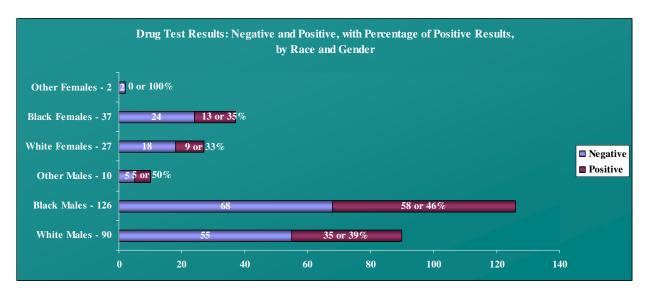

Of the juveniles who were administered the SASSI, 76, or 44%, scored in Group 3 or Group 4 (having a high probability for either substance abuse disorder or dependence). Since the testing instrument takes into account family history of substance abuse, and would also include juveniles who have already received intensive substance abuse treatment services (perhaps multiple times), referrals for substance abuse assessments are not based solely on the SASSI score. Some of the other referral criteria include detaining offense, drug test results at the time of admission, self-report, information obtained by parent, and substance abuse treatment history. When it is determined that a juvenile should be referred for a substance abuse assessment, Robert L. Perry Juvenile Justice Center staff contact a local treatment provider. The provider sends one of their staff to conduct the substance abuse assessment at the Juvenile Justice Center, complete a written report, and make a recommendation based on the determination of need for treatment. A juvenile's parent or custodian is present at the time of the assessment, if at all possible, in order to provide information about the youth and to discuss any questions or concerns. If it is recommended that a juvenile participate in substance abuse treatment, Robert L. Perry Juvenile Justice Center staff ensures that arrangements are made for treatment.

Drug Testing

Every juvenile admitted to the Robert L. Perry Juvenile Justice Center is administered a urinalysis drug screening during the admission process. The 10-panel drug test that is used tests for the presence of Marijuana, Cocaine, Methadone, Ecstasy, Opiates, Methamphetamine, Barbiturates, Benzodiazepines, Oxycodone, and PCP.

Of the 296 juveniles admitted to the Robert L. Perry Juvenile Justice Center during 2012, 292 were administered drug tests. Of the 292 drug tests administered, 120, or 41%, were positive for at least one substance. 111 of the 120 (93% of the total number of positive tests) were positive for at least marijuana.

Substance Abuse Assessment & Programming

A resident at the Robert L. Perry Juvenile Justice Center may be referred for a substance abuse assessment based on order of the court, drug testing results, SASSI results, and criminogenic risk factors. The assessment assists in determining what level of services would be needed for the juvenile.

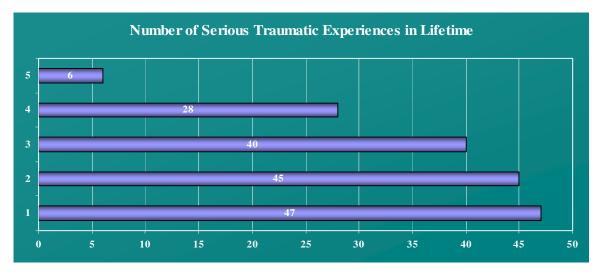

In 2012, 38 residents participated in substance abuse assessments administered by staff of Burrell Behavioral Health. The recommendations of those assessments included inpatient substance abuse treatment, outpatient substance abuse treatment, counseling, and/or prevention programming.

Of the 38 residents who were referred for substance abuse assessments, sixteen were recommended for inpatient treatment. Thirteen of those sixteen were placed in residential treatment facilities. Ten successfully completed treatment. Of those ten, eight have either complied with supervision and did not need to be detained again or, if they were detained, it was not for a drug-related offense and they did not test positive for any illicit substances.

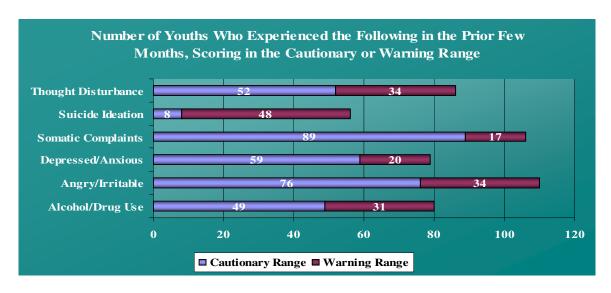

Massachusetts Youth Screening Instrument (MAYSI)

The MAYSI is a brief screening tool that is designed to identify potential mental health needs. It is administered to most juveniles admitted to the Robert L. Perry Juvenile Justice Center, within 48 hours of admission. Juveniles must be at least 12 years of age in order to obtain valid results. The MAYSI-2 is a self-report inventory of 52 questions. Youths circle "Yes" or "No," concerning whether each item has been true for them within the past few months, in the areas of Alcohol/Drug Use, Angry/Irritable, Depressed/Anxious, Somatic Complaints, Suicide Ideation, and Thought Disturbance. In the area of Traumatic Experiences, they circle "Yes" or "No" concerning whether they have ever experienced a serious trauma in their lifetime and, if so, how many traumas. Residents who score in the Cautionary and/or Warning Areas are referred, as needed, for further assessment and services.

In 2012, 256 juveniles were administered the MAYSI. As shown in the charts below, of the 256, 166 (64%) had experienced 1 to 5 serious, traumatic events in their lifetime. Youths also reported having experienced thought disturbance, suicide ideation, somatic complaints, depression/anxiety, anger/irritability, and alcohol/drug use.

Medical Services

Medical services are provided on a regular basis at the Robert L. Perry Juvenile Justice Center, and medical personnel are available on an on-call basis for urgent medical concerns. In 1974, when the Juvenile Justice Center opened, James L. Chapel, M.D., head of the University of Missouri Department of Psychiatry began providing medical services to residents in placement at the Center. After Dr. Chapel retired in the late 1980s, residents who had medical concerns were taken to the City Health Department. In 1992, the Boone County and City of Columbia Health Departments, together with local hospitals, the MU School of Medicine and Missouri Department of Social Services established the Boone County Family Health Center. Beginning that same year, medical personnel from the Family Health Center came to the Juvenile Justice Center once a week to provide physical examinations and treatment for acute health concerns, and they were available for emergency situations on an on-call basis. Since 1995, when the Juvenile Justice Center moved into a new, larger facility, visits by medical personnel to the Center have been on a twice-weekly basis, to accommodate the increased juvenile population. Health care services provided to juveniles within the first five days of admission include a physical examination, a general dental screening, and an assessment of the need for eyeglasses. Screening and treatment services to juveniles suffering from acute health concerns are available during regularly scheduled visits to the Center on Tuesdays and Fridays. Juveniles who have been in residence at the Center for seven or more days are given a tuberculin skin test. Pre-natal or post-partum care is available to female residents in need of such services.

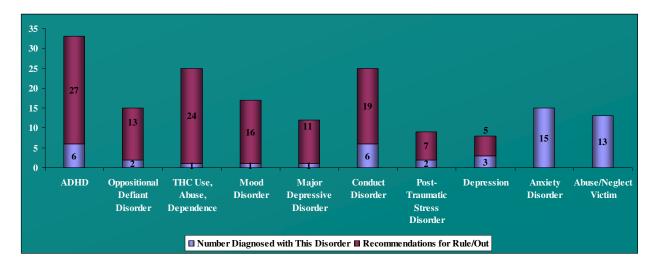

Psychiatric Services

Through a contract with the University of Missouri Department of Psychiatry, fellows in child and adolescent psychiatry are assigned to provide weekly psychiatric services at the Robert L. Perry Juvenile Justice Center. These fellows are physicians completing their residencies. A resident is a person who has received a medicial degree and who practices medicine under the supervision of a fully licensed physician.

In 2012, 74 residents were seen by the psychiatric fellow for full psychiatric assessment, the vast majority of which were 13th Circuit juveniles who were in residence on the program wing of the facility. There were 65 follow-up visits with the psychiatric fellow.

The psychiatric fellows are also responsible for interventions including prescribing and monitoring medications. Psychiatrists often request teaching staff to evaluate residents through the use of Vanderbilt Scales, to assist in ruling in or ruling out Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder. Other interventions by the psychiatric fellow include ordering lab work, making dietary changes, referring for substance abuse assessments, making recommendations for outpatient care/counseling after release, and obtaining collateral information. In 2011, the psychiatric fellows also provided training to staff in the areas of ADHD, Bipolar Disorder and side effects of psychotiopic medication.

The following chart denotes the 10 most common psychiatric diagnoses or suspected diagnoses among our population, in 2012.

Regional Detention and Evaluation Services

When plans for the present Juvenile Justice Center facility were still in the preliminary stages, a primary consideration in deciding what the size of the new building would be was out-of-circuit placements and placements by the Division of Youth Services. By 2000, the need for male detention rooms had increased to the point that it was necessary to decline most requests for services from other circuits and the Division of Youth Services. Planning began on expansion of the facility. On October 4, 2004, the facility expansion was completed and ready for occupancy. The expanded facility included twelve additional male detention rooms, an enlarged admissions area, extra storage on the detention wing, an enlarged school classroom/dayroom in the detention area, an enlarged school classroom area on the program wing, an enlarged library and an enlarged kitchen with a walk-in freezer and refrigerator. The facility expansion has allowed for increased bed availability for contracting circuits and the Division of Youth Services. Currently, six other regional circuits (10th, 12th, 14th, 18th, 20th and 41st) and the Division of Youth Services contract with the Juvenile Justice Center for detention and evaluation services, based upon availability of resident rooms at the Center.

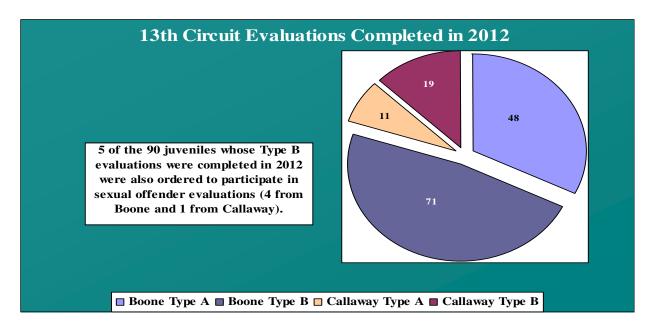

Evaluation

Type A: This type of evaluation would typically be ordered for a youth who has previously received services from the Juvenile Officer and/or who has previously been or is currently under the supervision of the Juvenile Officer. A significant amount of information should already be known about the juvenile. The purpose of the evaluation is to more quickly identify the problematic areas in the juvenile's life, and to address those issues in a timely manner.

Type B: This type of evaluation would typically be ordered for a youth who is relatively unknown to the Juvenile Officer, and would include youths who have committed the more serious law violations.

In addition to Type B evaluations, youths adjudicated for felony sex offenses are ordered to undergo sexual offender evaluations. Sexual offender evaluations are completed by a licensed psychologist specializing in forensic science, with a specialty in sexual offending behaviors. Pursuant to Section 191.663, RSMo, these juveniles are required to submit to HIV testing, and pursuant to Section 211.425, RSMo, they are required to register as juvenile sex offenders.

If ordered, 211.202 evaluations are completed at the Juvenile Justice Center by the Department of Mental Health. These evaluations are ordered if a child under the jurisdiction of the Juvenile Court appears to be mentally disabled, other than intellectually disabled or developmentally disabled. These evaluations shall be performed within twenty days of the order.

Certification

In 2012, the Juvenile Officer was ordered to complete waiver of jurisdiction investigations on 6 youths, all males.

Of the six hearings that were held in 2012, the outcomes were as follows:

- Three youths were certified to stand trial as adults.
- Three youth were committed to the Missouri Division of Youth Services.

Security Services

In March 1999, the Robert L. Perry Juvenile Justice Center instituted new security procedures. The Boone County Commission approved a budget request for funding of the services of an off-duty commissioned law enforcement officer to provide security services during visitation hours at the Juvenile Justice Center.

The overwhelming majority of parents or custodians of juveniles in residence at the Center have been cooperative and have posed no security issues; however, due to threats made by some parents, it was believed that additional security precautions were warranted.

The officer, through the use of a hand-held metal detector, scans each visitor for weapons before the visitor is granted entrance to the facility. In the event of any real or perceived threat, the officer is available for immediate assistance. The presence of a law enforcement officer during visiting times has greatly enhanced the safety and security of residents, visitors, and staff at the Center.

Community Service Work

The Community Service Work Program is one of the mechanisms the juvenile court employs to promote the philosophy of accountability. This program requires a juvenile offender to work a specified number of hours, with no compensation, as a way of repaying the community for his or her offenses.

Residents in placement at the Robert L. Perry Juvenile Justice Center have the opportunity to complete previously ordered community service work hours, if they are in residence on the program wing of the Juvenile Justice Center. They must have the approval of supervisory staff and their participation is behavior-dependent. Under the supervision of assigned staff, they are involved in such tasks as cleaning, painting, and gardening.

In 2012, residents completed approximately 467 hours of community service work while in placement at the Juvenile Justice Center.
